JVC EVERIO GZ-MG21 I bought this camcorder a while ago and was reletively pleased with it despite it's useless low light performance until my computer died and I had to buy a replacement. Every time I connected the camcorder to the new computer it caused the computer to freeze and the only solution was a full restart.

1.0 out of 5 stars JVC GZ-MG21EK. 5 January 2007. The hard disk is good as it just records forever and is instantly recognised in Linux distros Ubuntu and PCLinuxOS. The optical zoom is fantastic. Unfortunately the overall image quality is poor such that the camcorder is only useable in broad daylight or under close fluorescent lighting.
